

JAMES WARD

Chartered Accountant Partner

Personal Profile

James joined the partnership in early 2005 having previously worked as a corporate finance advisor. He spent eight years advising clients in a wide variety of industries on all aspects of corporate transactions, management buy-outs and venture capital. He is a qualified Chartered Accountant and is responsible not only for controlling the finances but also for managing other key aspects of the business such as marketing and business development.